

We have you covered with some terrific best management practices for our horses plus a special edition featuring "Girls and Their Horses". This will be a wonderful show!

AG Lifestyles

Ag Lifestyles is a weekly show debuting in May of 2006. We began with a series focusing on junior livestock showmanship. You told me through your thousands of emails that this is what you wanted and based upon your overwhelming positive feedback I know we did a tremendous job!

Ag Lifestyles will continue to bring you additional programs on deer management, game bird production and alternative uses for our ranch land. We are also looking forward to our tractor series and know that you will find this one especially entertaining and educational. One of our most popular shows was focused on grants and scholarships that are available to our students. We know from your feedback that you want more information on this topic and we will be getting with the Universities and producing additional shows. We have also learned from you, our viewers that health care is a huge concern. We have more planned in this area as well.

Trust us, all of you horse enthusiasts we will continue to air "Horse Sense" programs in this time slot as well as all of the other great shows. We have you covered with some terrific best management practices for our horses plus a special edition featuring "Girls and Their Horses". This will be a wonderful show!

Our goal is to continue to bring you programs each week that are a view out of a typical agricultural families life. You tell us what you want to see and we try super hard to produce it. That's the best way to describe Ag Lifestyles, we are geared toward finding out what our viewers want and getting that information put together in a fun and exciting program, finding the right setting, locating the experts and producing the shows that's what we do best! We hope that we enrich your life and that of your family through our hard work and dedication to the Ag industry. Please let us hear from you with your ideas and your support.

Warm regards,
LZ
