

EQUESTRIAN NATION

Beginning this spring, horse lovers will be tuning in to a new magazine-style television show called EQUESTRIAN NATION. Created by professionals who are horsemen themselves, Equestrian Nation is a program featuring stories about the many different equine breeds and disciplines from all around the world. This magazine-style show comes from the producers of the highly celebrated, long-running television series, HorseWorld, and boasts the same high quality production.

The new half-hour RFD-TV show is hosted by Six-time All Around Rodeo Champion and accomplished horseman, Larry Mahan, a legend in professional rodeo and one of its first mainstream media stars. Today, Mahan is an avid horseman, rancher and horse lover.

At a big Stock Show celebration party at the Denver Market, hosted by Milano Hats, Larry Mahan and RFD-TV executive Butch Morgan took the stage to announce the TV debut of Equestrian Nation, and described to guests a sampling of the program content.

Stories coming up include: trick roping with Montie Montana; rare footage of legendary horseman Tom Dorrance sharing some of his training techniques; a trip to Scotland to see the home of the Clydesdales and the fields they have plowed for centuries; a visit with Sons of the Pioneers, Rusty Richards; barrel racing with Charmayne James; reining with Dell Hendricks; scenic riding in Ireland; and cowboy cooking with Billy Ruiz. Agricultural stories are included, like holistic grazing of cattle and how this method can keep your pastures healthy. The show features vet tips from Dr. Doug Herthel and hoof care information with farrier John Raede. Equestrian Nation is a show that is full of information with something for every kind of horse enthusiast to enjoy.

This program gives the RFD-TV audience a chance to see in-depth informational stories about horses and horsemen from all over the world, portrayed through award-winning photography and solid equestrian knowledge and experience.
