

he trains, he ropes, he shoes, he's ours to share with you and he's special. He lives in Hawaii with his wife Melanie and that doesn't hurt because we're going there too - just to ride on the beach and have some fun, so come along with us. His name is Dr. Michael Collier, DVM, and he will be on our show in January in "Help Me Help My Horse". Don't miss it.

We're still not finished. We need one more of the 'best of the best'.

He is one of the top five overall trainers in the world. He is only twenty-eight years old, but has already been teaching professional horse trainers for ten years. He is a great teacher and a better horseman. He can teach a horse to do almost anything you want, from tricks to world-class performance in almost any event and any style of riding.

He has won the Horse Whisper Challenge, worked with mustangs, unbroken horses, problem horses, performance horses of all types, has taught clinics, and is the head teacher and trainer of the most respected certification program in the country. He's been the headline speaker, demonstrator and entertainer at many of the major horse expos around the country and in other parts of the world. He is our son, and we are very proud of him. He is Josh Lyons and he will be there for you and your horse on our show. He's another person you won't want to miss.

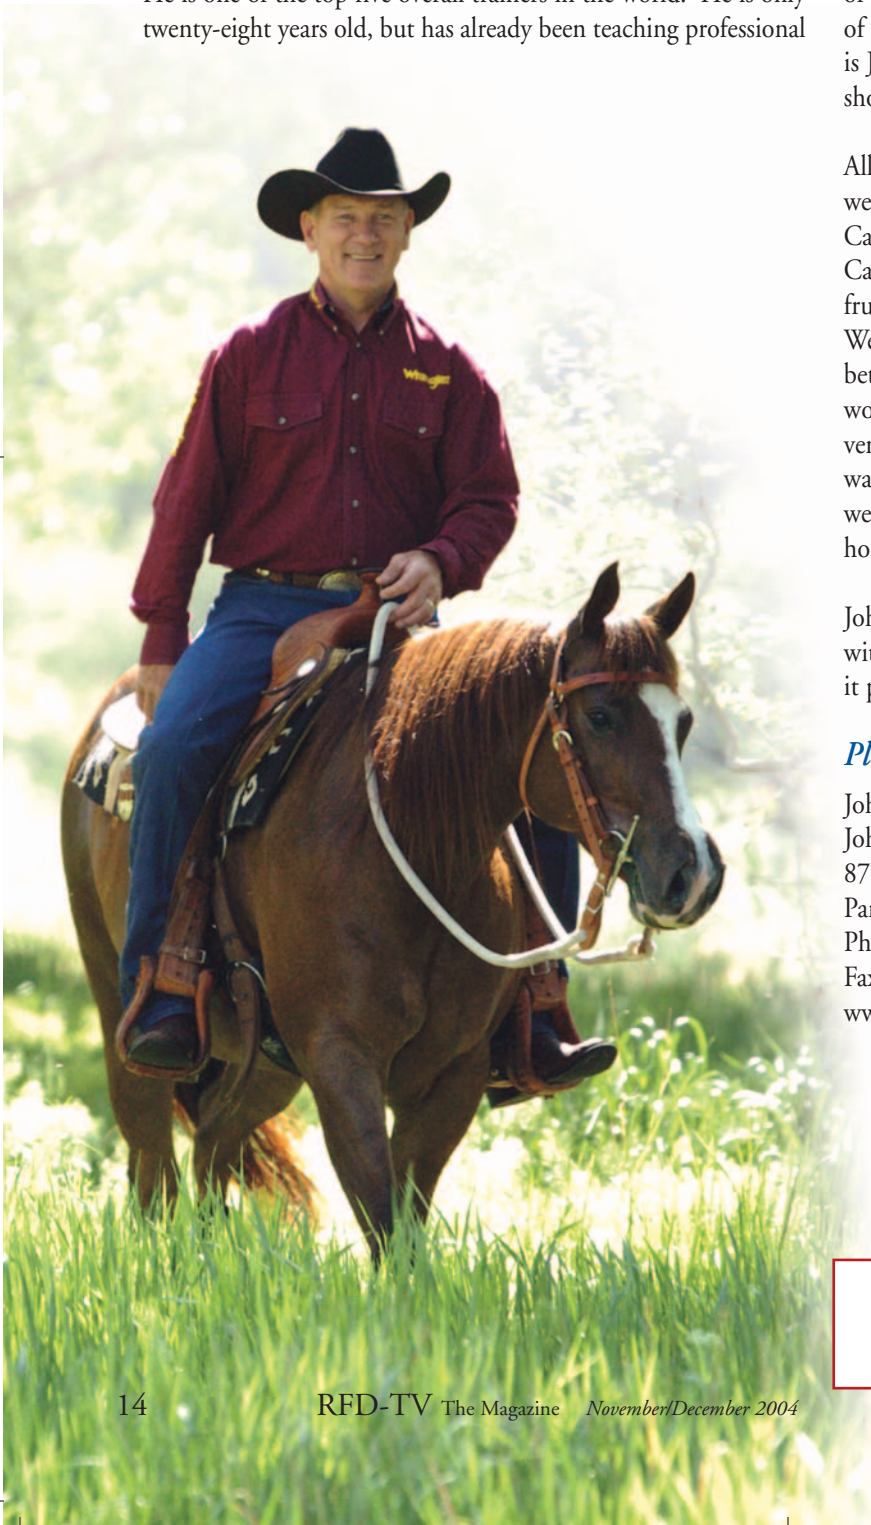

All of these things are for your horse, but what about you? Do we have help for you and some of your needs? The answer is yes. Can we help you with your fear? Yes.

Can we help you with your anger towards your horse? Yes. Your frustration? Yes. Your consistency? Yes. Your lack of patience? Yes. We can and will help you understand your horse better, yourself better, even help you get along better with your family, kids, co-workers and friends, with your heavenly Father who loves you very much. We really want to help in any way that we can. We want to do the very best to make this hour the best hour of the week and we will work very hard for you because we know your hour is important.

John and Jody, along with Josh and Jana want to share their life with you. So come on along. The fun is just about to start and it promises to get better each and every week.
