

Michigan

Travel the back roads of Michigan with hosts Dell Vaughan and Barry Stutesman. Each week you'll experience the Great lake state "off the beaten path". Follow Dell and Barry as they discover Interesting people, places and events that exemplify the Michigan rural spirit.

From artists, craftsman, home businesses, farmers, ranchers, county fair to home town hero's everything Michigan is fair game for these two native Michiganders.

Dell and Barry travel into the communities and homes of everyday people that are making a difference in the lives of those around them or are preserving a tradition for future generations.

Michigan Magazine is dedicated to finding the "real" Michigan one will see down the side roads of the state and placing it in the "spotlight".

Dell and Barry have been traveling Michigan's highways and bi-ways together on Michigan Magazine over a decade and have garnered a loyal legion of viewers who, through the program, are themselves discovering adventures in their own backyard!

Del and Barry starting the program in 1989.

Dell, born in Flint and raised in Clio, Michigan had a tremendous background in entertainment and music. Dell's younger years found him recording and charting hits on local radio stations. His love of the state and it's people were subject of many original compositions. Dell composed and performs the Michigan Magazine Theme song "Sore Like an Eagle"... that beckons weekly viewers to "...follow us where we go!"
